

Position: Game Script Writer

Company Overview

Jalan Journey is a multi-award-winning digital game studio that develops interactive experiences centred on social and environmental causes. Our projects use gameplay to cultivate empathy, critical thinking, and awareness of real-world issues.

We are seeking a Game Developer who can contribute to our upcoming project In Confidence, bringing technical expertise, creativity, and a strong sense of purpose to a collaborative development environment.

Project Overview

Inspired by JudgeSim, “In Confidence” is a narrative-driven simulation game where players step into the role of a youth counsellor at a fictional early intervention centre.

Developed in collaboration with a national anti-drug initiative and a leading social service organisation, the game explores real-world issues of substance misuse (drugs, vapes, inhalants, prescription abuse) through confidential case assessments, dialogue choices, and decision-making systems. Players must build trust, make ethical choices, and manage procedural dilemmas, reflecting empathy, integrity, and social responsibility.

What You Can Expect

- Commitment: ~8 hours/week (1 day); part-time preferred.
- Compensation: $300–$900+ per project (CPF not included).
- Arrangement: Hybrid, flexible schedule; deliverables-focused.
- Work Mode: Contract-based; remote with occasional in-person meetings.
- Credit: Featured project portfolio display on your resume and our website.
- Exposure: Opportunities to be at media events, showcases, and conferences, with potential features in press coverage and partner campaigns.

Responsibilities

- Write compelling dialogue and scripts for multiple characters across game scenarios.
- Develop distinct character voices, personalities, and emotional arcs.
- Collaborate with designers and developers to integrate narrative into gameplay.
- Craft branching dialogue, decision points, and interactive story moments.
- Align narrative with educational or thematic objectives of the game.
- Iterate on scripts based on playtesting, feedback, and production needs.

Essential to Have

- Proven experience in creative writing, scriptwriting, or narrative design.
- Ability to write engaging, natural dialogue across different tones and audiences.
- Understanding of storytelling in interactive or game-based formats.
- Strong collaboration and communication skills.
- Ability to adapt writing style based on feedback and project direction.

About You

You’re a storyteller at heart—someone who brings characters and worlds to life through words. You think about how stories feel, not just how they read. You are:

- Imaginative: You create vivid characters, voices, and emotional moments.
- Intentional: You write with purpose, aligning story with player experience.
- Adaptable: You iterate quickly and collaborate well in dynamic teams.
- Empathetic: You understand human emotions and translate them into meaningful narratives.
